

Women's Studies at Duke Presents

A Lecture by Diana Dolev

“SOCIETY AND THE MILITARY
IN ISRAEL FROM A FEMINIST PERSPECTIVE”

NOVEMBER 1, 2005

4 PM

EAST DUKE BUILDING, ROOM 204B

Reception to follow in the East Duke Parlors

Dr. Diana Dolev teaches at two schools of design in Israel, WIZO College of Design in Haifa and and Holon Academic Technology Institute. She researches the connections between national identity and architecture. Her PhD dissertation analyzed the militarization of the Mt. Scopus campus of the Hebrew University, Jerusalem.

Dolev has been an activist since 1980 when she facilitated a group of Palestinian and Jewish students at the "Education for Peace" program at Ben Gurion University, Beer Sheva, later introducing the curriculum into six high schools in Israel. In 1987, she established a branch of the Association for Civil Rights (ACRI) in Beer Sheva then going on to found the "Gaza Team," which petitioned Israeli authorities against human rights violations in the Gaza Strip.

Since initiating a weekly "Women in Black" vigil in Beer Sheva in 1998, Dolev has been consistently active with WIB, most recently as a member of the organizing committee of the August 2005 international WIB conference in Jerusalem.

Contact phoffman@duke.edu for more information about this lecture and reception.